Bulls will be pre-priced day of sale according to data - starting at $2000. The sale format will be the same as past years. You are obligated once you've marked your bulls, but two or more bids on the same bull will be bid off. With this volume of bulls, give yourself adequate time to make selection decisions as we will market these bulls as quick and efficiently as possible. We will have a brief recess between groups for bid changes.
